QUALITY TO AID POOR

Florence Crittenton School Graduates Fourteen.

REV. MR. GREENE THE SPEAKER

Mrs. L. McH. Stewart the Valedictorian, and Theses Are Read by Miss Lillie W. Scholz and Miss Julia A. Lyons—Miss Mary McCann Among Those Who Graduated.

Fourteen pupils were handed their diplomas at the eleventh annual commencement of the Florence Crittenton Training School last night. The theses were given for proficiency in domestic science, Bible study, nursing, and hospital work, and the holders, dressed in neat uniforms, looked more like the soft stepping, low voiced professional nurses, than young girls starting out in the world.

Mrs. Kate Weller Barrett, general superintendent of the Florence Crittenton work, presided. Opening prayer was by Rev. R. L. Shipley and the class sang a selection breathing of spring and flowers. Mrs. Barrett delivered a short address, taking as her subject "Imprisoned souls," and told of the patience that must be taken to liberate the soul, whether held by ignorance, hardness, or other deficiency, and pointed out as an example the wonders achieved by Miss Sullivan, who worked for fifteen years with Helen Keller, the blind girl.

Rev. Samuel H. Greene speaks. "The heroic and common life" was the subject of an address by Rev. Samuel H. Greene, who made his first appearance at a public gathering last night since there was smallpox in his home. Dr. Greene declared invincibility does not make the person or the character, but that on the contrary, the character should make the environment.

The valedictory was delivered by Mrs. L. McH. Stewart, and these were read by Miss Lillie W. Scholz, whose paper was entitled "The Life of Christ," Miss Julia A. Lyons, "Opportunities of a Christian Nurse," and Miss Mary McCann, "The Heroic and Common Life."

Dr. Ada R. Thomas awarded the diplomas. One of the graduates was Miss Mary McCann, who, while a passenger on the ill-fated excursion steamer Slocum, which was wrecked a few years ago near New York, saved several lives and rendered heroic aid to the injured. Miss McCann was recently awarded a Carnegie medal for bravery. She will make her life work the aid and treatment of the sick and injured.

Those in the graduating class were: Mrs. Laetta McH. Stewart, president; Miss Julia A. Lyons, vice president; Miss Beatrice Mitchell, secretary; Miss Flora A. Reed, treasurer; Mrs. Anna E. Asher, Miss B. Reine Barker, Miss Lucetta Ford, Miss A. Frances Ford, Miss L. Viola Hixson, Miss Florence M. Lupke, Miss Mary McCann, Miss Lillie W. Scholz, Miss Mary B. Sheetz, and Miss Katherine Williams.

MERRITT WINS FIRST HONORS.

Oratorical Contest by Y. M. C. A. Debating Society.
Edgar Merritt won the annual oratorical contest of the Young Men's Christian Association Debating Society last night. Mr. Merritt's subject was "The Income Tax."

Second honors were won by C. Frank Newton, whose subject was "How?" The other speakers and their subjects were: C. T. Deyo, "Woman's right to propose marriage"; Asher Leatherman, "College education"; H. A. Beauvard, "The advantages of bookkeeping"; C. E. Armitage, "Politics"; B. F. Motley, "Our President, William Howard Taft"; H. C. Bickel, "Patriotism"; J. R. Jones, "Justice"; W. H. Wilhoit, "Popular election of United States Senators"; B. S. Stottle, "Woman's Suffrage"; "Election of Senators by popular vote"; P. C. Oberlin, "Politics"; E. H. Thomas, "The Income Tax"; and Roosevelt Jenkins, "Peace."

Each speaker was allowed two minutes to present his subject. The judges, J. D. Durham, J. E. Will, and C. H. Chadcock, selected the six best men for the final round, and these men were required to speak again extemporaneously for two minutes. Nearly 300 present heard the young orators.

PLAN INTER-CITY MARATHON.

Runners Will Go from Here and Baltimore to Point Midway.

An amateur inter-city Marathon race of unusual interest will be pulled off in the near future, contestants starting simultaneously from Washington and Baltimore, to run to a point midway between the two cities. The winner and finishers in this race will receive valuable prizes.

This will be the first Marathon race between two cities ever run in this country. The finish line will be located by surveys made by the United States geological survey, and the starting date will be fixed as soon as the consent of the officials of the Amateur Athletic Union can be obtained. Clubs and individuals will be allowed to compete.

Aged ex-Slave Buried.

Simple funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Rehoboth Baptist Church for Aunt Mary Lee, an ex-slave who had lived well beyond the century mark and was known to all the residents of that part of Southwest Washington bordering on the James Creek Canal. Interment was in Harmony Cemetery. Aunt Mary Lee was born in 1791, on the plantation of Richard Baylor, a squire and land owner in Essex County, Va. She remembered well many of the stirring scenes of the war of 1862. All of her ten children lived to ripe old age and the youngest is now more than sixty.

COMPLAIN OF SEATS

Citizens' Association Objects to Those in New Cars.

SEE DANGER TO PASSENGERS

Those Standing Have No Opportunity to Cling to Straps, Says Columbia Heights Organization in Objections Sent to the Railway Commission. Crosswise Seats Are Advocated.

Seats running the length of the car were the subject of a lengthy complaint from the Columbia Heights Citizens' Association, read at the meeting of the District Electric Railway Commission yesterday afternoon.

The citizens' association objected to the lengthwise seats on the Fourteenth street line of the Capital Traction Company, and the Eleventh street and Mount Pleasant lines of the Washington Railway and Electric Company. A number of specific reasons for objections were stated in the complaint.

Objections to the seats were based on section sixteen of an act allowing the railway companies to install cars to run to Union Station. This act contains the words, "comfortable and convenient," as applied to the cars, and gives the commission the right to see that the act is enforced.

Not Comfortable or Convenient.

The association complains that the cars with seats running lengthwise are neither comfortable nor convenient. They also say that the cars with lengthwise seats afford a minimum seating capacity as against a maximum standing room. The new pay-as-you-enter cars on the Fourteenth street line, with lengthwise seats, are objected to because those standing in the middle of the aisles have no straps to cling to, the arrangements of seats and standing room being such that many passengers can stand in the middle of the car out of reach of straps or seats.

The danger to aged or infirm passengers when the new cars start or stop is mentioned in the complaint. It is said that when the cars start or stop the mass of passengers clinging to straps and those without straps are jolted either forward or backward, and in this way are a menace to those unable by physical infirmities to protect themselves.

Drafts on the back of the neck, when the car windows are opened, and the sliding to and fro when the car is started or stopped, are other objections mentioned.

Report Will Go to Commission.

At the conclusion of the reading of this objection it was voted to mail to the association a copy of the report of Secretary Eddy, of the commission, advocating cross-seats in the cars, and telling of the inability of the commission to enforce a rule to compel the companies to comply with his recommendations.

A complaint was read from the citizens who objected to the manner in which motormen pass passengers standing on street corners when the cars are either crowded or closely followed by other cars. The writer mentions as a particular instance his standing on the corner of Eighteenth and U streets northwest, and having two cars pass him by. Both cars, he said, were nearly empty. A reply was sent to the correspondent, stating the complaints of this kind should be forwarded to the car companies or brought to the attention of the corporation counsel, as there is an act preventing such action on the part of the motormen and conductors.

PERRY HEATH TO LIVE HERE.

Intends to Dispose of His Newspaper Holdings.

Perry Sanford Heath, former First Assistant Postmaster General, and now publisher of several newspapers, is erecting a house at Connecticut avenue and S streets, which will be ready for occupancy early in September. Mr. Heath intends to make Washington his permanent home. He has moved his household goods here, and will place them in his new home as soon as possible.

Mr. Heath said yesterday, as he left for Munich, Ind., that he was about to retire from business, and had already disposed of his newspaper holdings in Utah.

The Only Certain Remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all Stomach Troubles

NOURILEAN

THE GREAT DYSPEPSIA REMEDY

(Guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drug Act of June 30th, 1906)

NOURILEAN DOES THE BUSINESS CERTAINLY AND QUICKLY

Nothing in it to hurt even a child. No family should be without NOURILEAN—when wanted it's wanted quickly and acts quickly to relieve Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Etc.

This is the Short Story of a Big Cleveland Manufacturer.

(Name and address given by mail on request)

He was laid up for months with aggravated dyspepsia or indigestion—unable to leave his room. He thought it was about the end of all things for him. A Chicago friend sent him a box of Nourilean while the doctor was still tinkering with his case. In a week he wrote his friend: "I feel like singing Hallelujahs to you this morning. Nourilean has done the business for me." A month later he went to Chicago, gave a royal dinner, partook royally himself, and was his old hearty self again. He is one of Nourilean's most enthusiastic advocates, and always carries the capsules in his pocket for the relief of his friends.

It contains no artificial digester, no alcohol, no opium, no calomel, no strychnine or other poisonous drug, and is absolutely free from all narcotics. The U. S. Government would prohibit our use of the mails if this were not so. Do not accept a substitute. There is nothing like it—nothing that will produce the same result. When necessary it will be sent direct by mail.
